Review

90 Points - Owen Bargreen: "Sourced from a host of Willamette Valley vineyards, the 'La Sorella' Chardonnay has kiwi and wild mushroom tones alongside the core of baked apple and pear tones. The palate has a soft texture as this shows nice length with a light dusting of salinity across starfruit, poached pear and Challah bread flavors. Drink 2020-2027." -Aug 2020

89 Points - James Suckling: "This has attractive, flinty purity with lemons and white peaches, as well as a distinctive, meaty edge to the palate - like charcuterie." -Jan 2020

Winery Information

We are rooted in building from the ground up- first with the planting of my father in laws vineyard in 1998, then the creation of Bergstrom Wines in 1999 and next , the planting of our own vineyard. The experience gained in these early years led us to the creation of our brand de Lancellotti Family Vineyards in 2005.

The beginning years opened our eyes to biodynamic farming- a holistic practice of farming used for generations in the premiere vineyards around the world, but one that is largely misunderstood until you have spent a lifetime in vineyards. Attention to detail starts in a farm.

Today, de Lancellotti wines are a result of fruit sourced from some of the finest vineyards in Oregon, hand selected and intentionally farmed throughout the year.

Simply put, farming great vineyards and sourcing the finest pinot noir and chardonnay is our passion.
